

SDSN Hong Kong Monthly Highlight

Every Action Counts

One does not need to fix everything in order to make an effective transition,

We must learn from the medical practitioners about differential diagnosis, and having tools to determine the pathway towards achieving the sustainable goals.

Jeffrey Sachs

President, UN Sustainable Development Solutions Network

Expert Talk on SDGs and Corruption, International Anti-Corruption Academy

Event Promotion

City Nature Challenge 2023

Participate in the global event by sharing your observations of Hong Kong's wild species on the iNaturalist mobile app. The city with the highest number of species recorded will emerge as the winner.

More »

11th Shiu-Ying Hu Day Seminar 2023

Get to know how scientific illustration on botany help scientists record and conserve local native plants.

More »

Happenings in Hong Kong

Recycling of Yard Waste Into Useful Materials

Y-PARK, a recycling centre located in Tuen Mun, transforms suitable yard waste into useful wooden products, providing a sustainable solution for waste management.

Smart Recycling System Set Up in Housing Estates

The EPD has introduced the first batch of smart recycling bins in housing estates to encourage residents to adopt better waste reduction and recycling habits.

More »

More »

SDSN Global

New SDSN Network Launched in Ireland

Co-hosted by the University College Cork and the Queen's University Belfast, SDSN Ireland ensures an all-island approach is taken to implementing the UN SDGs.

More »

First UN Water Conference Concluded with Success

In celebration of World Water Day, the UN 2023 water conference brought a diverse range of global stakeholders to discuss the critical issue of water sustainability. Look into the outcomes of the conference.

More »

SDSN Hong Kong

Celebrating 60 Years of Excellent: CUHK Launches Impact CU60 Website

The online information portal highlights the initiatives from CUHK that carry social impact.

More »

HKU Launches Mobile App to Promote Inclusive Society

The 'InMatch' app, a resource-matching platform that connects different sectors, facilitating a more efficient and effective allocation of resources.

More »

Got something to share with SDSN Hong Kong members?

Let Us Know!

Social With Us!

